TO CONSIDER BOOKS / BOOK CHAPTERS IN ADDITION TO RESEARCH PAPERS FOR THE MINIMUM REQUIRED PUBLICATIONS FOR THE FACULTY POSITIONS IN DEPARTMENT OF LAW, DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL SCIENCES AND DEPARTMENT OF MANAGEMENT STUDIES

With regard to the research publications to be considered for the faculty selections, the IQAC suggested that as there is no authentic list of peer reviewed journals in the

The Vice-Chancellor extended a warm welcome to the members of the IQAC.

He further informed the Members that due to Covid-19 and subsequent lockdowns declared by Central and State governments, the University was closed in March, 2020. As the University Grants Commission has notified the Guidelines on Examinations and Academic Calendar for the Universities in view of COVID-19 pandemic and subsequent lockdown he had constituted three different Committees, consisting of Faculty Members along with student representative for the three regular programmes, i.e., B.A., LL.B. (Hons.), LL.M. and MBA Programmes, to deliberate and recommend the examination pattern for the current semester and also the academic calendar for the next session. The Committees considering the UGC Guidelines, the concerns of all the stakeholders and after detailed deliberations with the students and faculty members have submitted their report suggesting the examination pattern for the current semester along with the evaluation scheme. The Committee constituted for the MBA programme has also provided the academic calendar for the next session. The reports of the Committees are attached as Annexure – I, II and III for consideration by the IQAC and further recommending their suggestions to the Academic Council meeting which is scheduled to be held on May 16, 2020 for issue of necessary directions.

The IQAC deliberated in detail on the reports submitted by various Committees and recommended the following to the Academic Council for their approval:

5-Year B.A., LL.B. (Hons.) Programme

- The project and mid-semester exam score (which is for 50 marks) of each subject will be retained as it is. As in case of UG programme, the evaluation of most of the electives has already been completed and for the seminar papers, the submissions and presentations will be taken by the faculty members online. For the remaining 50 marks the up scaling/extrapolation will be done. Hence, the said scheme will be applicable only to the mandatory papers and the electives papers where only 50% evaluation has been completed.
- The UGC guidelines suggested consideration of the previous semester score but the Committee recommended consideration of the overall performance of the students till the last semester if the upscaling of current semester marks adversely affects their CGPA.

One Year LL.M. Programme

- In the LL.M., there is one mandatory paper, elective papers, seminar papers and Dissertation during the current semester.
- For the mandatory taught paper, it is recommended to conduct an online exam which will be an essay of 2000 words based on the materials provided, by giving the students 48 hours' time. The essay is mainly to test the students on comprehension and learnings made during this semester rather than research or language and expression. 58 out of 60 students have consented to take this kind of examination.
- In case of elective papers which are common to the B.A., LL.B. (Hons.) and LL.M. students, the criteria evolved for the B.A., LL.B. (Hons.)

students shall be applicable to LL.M. students as well, if they have completed the required course work.

- For the elective courses, which are offered exclusively to the LL.M. students, it is recommended that the Faculty Members in consultation with the students may decide the pattern of the exam and conduct the online exam which may be take-home exam / essay / assignment etc. Same criteria may be followed in case of the students who have taken common electives offered to B.A., LL.B. (Hons.) and LL.M. but have not done the course work like B.A., LL.B. (Hons.) students.
- For the Seminar Papers, it has been recommended that the presentations may be made to the concerned faculty member instead of panel of faculty members.
- The evaluation of the dissertations may be done by the internal faculty members and the name of the examiner may also be provided to the student in advance for taking feedback on their proposal and to write dissertation as per the expectations of the examiner.
- The viva on the dissertation shall be conducted after the evaluation but rather than usual pre-submission presentation.

Two Year MBA Programme

Keeping in mind, the safety concerns of the faculty and students, the Committee was not in favour of conducting the pen - paper examination and recommended to devise a pattern as being adopted for B.A., LL.B. and LL.M. courses for the remaining 65% of the evaluation pending for the trimester.

The meeting concluded with vote of thanks to the Chairperson.
